Introduction

On behalf of Polytechnic Military School (EMP), located at Bordj El Bahri (around 30 km east of the Capital city, Algiers), it is a great pleasure to announce you the organisation of the 12th edition of the Conference on Mechanical Engineering that will be held on March 17-18, 2020. This event, organised once every two years, aims to provide an appropriate academic forum for the research actors, both academicians and industrial, to exchange their findings and ideas on all mechanical engineering aspects, expected to strengthen the collaboration for bringing better insights into the communication between research, realistic contexts and future perspectives. The opportunity will also be given to PhD students to take part in this Conference for offering innovative technological solutions that could be useful for the industry and economic operators.

All the previous eleven editions of this conference are known as 'Journées de Mécanique JM'. From the upcoming edition on, the event will be baptized "12th Conference on Mechanical Engineering CME'2020".

Topics

It is worthy to note that CME'2020 covers a wide assortment of mechanical engineering main topics including :

A. Fluid mechanics and Energetic

B. Materials Engineering

C. Structural Mechanics

D. Manufacturing and Machinery design

Instructions for authors

Authors are kindly invited to submit their papers (not more than 8 pages) written in English according to the LNME (Lecture Notes in Mechanical Engineering) formatting guidelines.

A Template word file is available on the conference website which also contains a Latex style files.
